GLOBAL EXPERIENCE

Group Profile

Altrad is a global leader in the provision of industrial services, generating high added value solutions principally for the Oil & Gas and LNG sectors. Headquartered in France, the Group employs around 42,000 people globally.

Between 2015 and 2017, Altrad acquired several major Industrial Services companies with established international brands and collectively 40 years experience of constructing and maintaining Liquefaction, Offshore and Regasification Terminals in the UK, Europe, Middle East, Asia, Africa and Australia.

With the acquisition of Cape in 2017 and recent experience in Australia of delivering large scale contracts for global EPCM's, the Altrad Group truly is the premier industrial services provider to the LNG sector.

Through the acquisition of Cape, Altrad has been involved on over 60% of the World's LNG Construction Projects.

Proven Expertise

Current LNG Portfolio

Over the past 11 years, Cape has performed works at several major LNG projects in Australia and Asia, and in doing so has developed unique expertise in managing and successfully executing our specialist and project critical scopes.

We offer a proven asset lifecycle solution, leveraging our regional presence. This includes modular construction in yards across Asia; Hook-Up, Stick Built Construction and Commissioning locally; through to Maintenance and Life-Extension services.

Cape's attention to quality and safety have delivered industry leading results with our highly trained teams achieving Zero LTIs and handing over critical path scopes on time often including third party growth.

Our access to thousands of quality employees, technical resources and proven systems along with experienced project management has ensured continuous delivery excellence that sets Cape apart from the market.
